News Update: News Dir Craig Foster

- Training and Integration of new volunteer Newscasters
 - Training and coverage of Municipal functions
 - Use of computer or phone to directly send in reports live to air in times of emergency or weather warnings.
- A series of yellow dashed lines in the bottom right corner, forming a curved shape.

News Update:

Introduction and assimilation of locally generated News content (Community Reporter Brenda Little)

- Every week feeding live audio to the newsteam.
 - Weekly audio and visual submissions for the nation-wide Local Journalism Initiative.

The Local Journalism Initiative

- Examples: Results of Council meetings and developments from committees such as a report given by Elis Zeigler at the Committee of the Whole about the transitional housing project Leeward House.
- Second, is the Local Journalism Initiative where we create reports for the national digital news platform Frequency.ca. formerly Canada Info.
- Extensive reports include a written piece, photos, sound bites and a fulsome audio report. For example - report on the warming centre at H.O.P.E. A place for people to stay the night is a first for PEC.

Prince Edward County's Mayor Ferguson presented a Civic Recognition Certificate to 25-year old Kim Pothier, of the County, for winning a gold and three silvers in speed skating at the Special Olympics Winter Games held in Calgary this past February.

Reflections on Lives and Times in PEC

- In 2024, a grant from the Government of Canada's New Horizons for Seniors Program to produce vignettes featuring historically significant Prince Edward County stories and events.
- Led by Peter Lockyer, story researchers Pearl Hucul, Colleen Johnson, Brenda Shardlow and Beverly Sprague uncovered and developed over 20 stories.
- Now in production the fascinating stories will be unveiled at a special afternoon Listening Party at the Macaulay Church Museum on February 22nd.

Reflections on Lives and Times in PEC

- Debuts February 23rd, 2025.
- The stories are replayed 24/7 to share these significant County historical moments.
- We also make the stories available for streaming on-demand and to other interested community organizations.
- Thanks to the following organizations:

Listener Community Survey
Summary Report

Background

- During the summer of 2024, The Rank Research Group conducted a market research study on behalf of 99.3 CountyFM to learn about listeners' sentiments towards the station and its programming.
- An online survey was designed and deployed using various methods:
 - On air promotion of the survey.
 - Distribution of survey participation invitations at a wide variety of events and venues in and around The County.
- While the sample is not random the results are considered to be broadly representative of the station's listenership.

Listening Hours Per Week

79% of our listeners tune in to 99.3 CountyFM daily or several times per week and on average report listening 11 hours per week. Many listen much more.

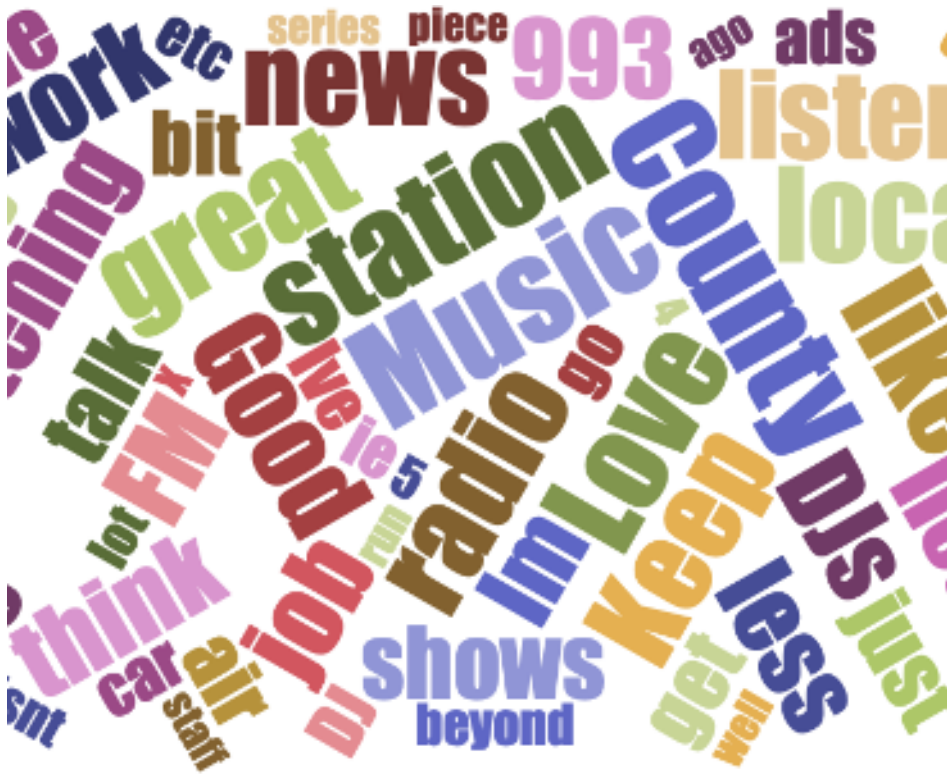

Key Findings

- Average County FM listener married male between 56-75, either retired or working full-time and a full-time resident of PEC (lived in the County for 10+ years)
- Nearly all respondents are current listeners of County FM 99.3. Among this group, the highest listening is throughout the week in the morning or afternoon. They listen to County FM while in their car or at home, typically through a traditional radio. Most say that they turn on the station and listen to whatever is on the air (they do not necessarily seek specific programming). On average, they listen 11 hours a week.
- The local approach of County FM is a key strength for the radio station, acting as a critical source of local and regional information/news. The station keeps them up-to-date on local events in PEC. Listeners strive to support local business in County.

Key Findings

- The majority of County FM listeners believe that the current content (news, information, music, etc.) is the “right amount”. There is a section of the listener population that would like to hear more local news and different styles of music.
- Four-in-ten (40%) have not yet donated to County FM, presenting an opportunity to reach them through on-air fundraising efforts (note - current listeners do not believe that the station spends too much time fundraising).
- Among non-listeners of County FM 99.3, the main reasons are a lack of interest in listening to traditional radio and not living in Prince Edward County.

Suggestions for Improvement

- Q - County FM is always interested in ways it can improve.
- Please take a moment and give us your thoughts on how to improve the radio station!

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY RADIO CORPORATION

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AS AT AUGUST 31, 2024

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Prince Edward County Radio Corporation

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements Qualified Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Prince Edward County Radio Corporation (the Corporation), which comprise the statement of financial position as at August 31, 2024, and the statements of net assets, operations and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion section of our report, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at August 31, 2024, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

In common with many not-for-profit organizations, the Corporation derives revenue from donations, the completeness of which is not susceptible of satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Corporation and we were not able to determine whether, as at and for the years ended August 31, 2024 and August 31, 2023, any adjustments might be necessary to donations revenue, excess of revenues over expenditures and net assets.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Corporation in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing these financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Corporation, or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Corporation's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Corporation to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
